

TRANSPORTATION

By Vehicle: Highway 19 connects Campbell River with major centers on southern Vancouver Island (3.5 hours from Victoria, 1.45 hours from Nanaimo). Drivers can also travel the scenic oceanside highway (Highway 19A) instead.

By Air: The Campbell River International Airport is 20 minutes from downtown. There are regular daily flights from Vancouver, Abbotsford and Seattle. Floatplanes also fly into the Campbell River Harbour.

By Boat: Journey to the Campbell River Harbour. By shipping routes, it is 220 nautical miles from Seattle, Washington and 122 nautical miles to Vancouver's Fraser River depots. If you are coming from the mainland (Vancouver area), you can travel with BC Ferries into Victoria or Nanaimo and then drive north to Campbell River.

Once in Campbell River, the public transit system covers the entire city. Taxi service is available, as well as water taxi service along the shoreline. For those who prefer to drive themselves, car rentals are available and street parking is not a problem. Ferry service operates between Campbell River and Quadra Island daily and there is another ferry between Quadra Island and Cortes Island. Nautical travelers will find several marinas in Campbell River and boat rentals are available.

Discovery Harbour Marina

Marina at Discovery Pier

The waterfront in Campbell River appears to be one massive marina. In fact, there are three saltwater marinas, as well as a freshwater marina at the mouth of the Campbell River. Government Marina and Discovery Pier are located at the south end of the harbour on South Island Hwy (Hwy 19). Discovery Harbour Marina, the commercial hub of Campbell River's harbour, and Argonaut Wharf lie just slightly farther north off Hwy 19 on Old Spit Road. The Freshwater Marina, with public parking and public boat launch, is located on the north side of the Campbell River Estuary.

The Fresh Water Marina is located on Campbell River's Estuary. The marina has more than 150 berths, most of which are covered and have locked access